SCHOOL REPORT.

SCHOOL NO. 1.

Taught by Miss Eastman, though small in number through non-attendance, there was marked interest and fine progress as is usual with a good teacher.

SCHOOL NO. 2.

Both terms of the primary department were taught by Miss Wheet to the satisfaction of all. She is a model teacher. The school is one of the best, if not the best in town, the result in part at least of an excellent teacher last year. Grammar department, summer term taught by Miss Eastman who natural aptitude for the work always guarantees a good school. The winter term was taught by Mr. Hilton of Lowell, Mass., Dartmouth student. Thorough, systematic, impartial and a fine disciplinarian, Mr. Hilton has made the school a marked success, and the scholars have spent their time in work, not in mischief.

SCHOOL NO. 3.

Second term was taught by Miss Wheet, and if all teachers were as competent for the work it would lighten much the cares of the School Board. The third term was under the charge of Mr. Cotton who was faithful to his work, and proved satisfactory to the district.

SCHOOL NO. 4.

Was taught by Miss Pillsbury whose evident interest in her work was imparted in turn to her scholars; the progress was good, and the school very satisfactory.

SCHOOL NO. 7.

First term was taught by Miss Morrison and was pleasant, interesting, and the progress good. The second term was in charge of the same teacher who wins the affection and interest of her pupils, but there was a little lack of discipline which prevented the best achievements. The third term was taught by Mr. Drake who was conscientious in the performance of his work. Both the order and progress good, but the size of the school was such as to prevent the best results, although there were some apt scholars who did well during the short term of 9 weeks. The number of names on the visitors list shows a gratifying interest in the school.

SCHOOL NO. 8.

The summer term was taught by Miss Currier. It was her first school. Well educated and with a fund of general information she possesses those inherent qualities that interest scholars in their studies. Dr. Toby pronounced the school a decided success. If there was a lack, it was in discipline. The second term was taught by Miss Williams, an active and experienced teacher, and the progress was good considering the number of the absences.

SCHOOL NO. 9.

Was commenced by Miss Cutting but her health proving unequal to the task, the Board at her request secured another teacher, Mr. H. L. Cotton, who gained the good will of the scholars and carried a difficult school through successfully.

SCHOOL NO. 10.

A short term was well taught to the profit of the pupils by Mrs. E. R. Griffin.

ROLL OF HONOR.

Containing the names of all pupils who have been present every half day of a term without being absent or tardy:

Charles E. Bartlett, Otis C. Cummings, Myrtie D. Ferguson, Grace E. French, Rosella E. French, Josie A. Swain, Jennie T. Witcher, Edith M. Leonard, Mattie A. Page, Edward Howland, Luila M. Witcher, Lena O. Merrill, Fannie J. Merrill, Jennie U. Moses, Cora A. Little, Nellie E. Davis, Musa D. Judkins.

The following have been in perfect attendance for the school year:

Martha L. Cummings, Maynard E. Cummings, Lee A. Clement, Cora M. Fales, Eva D. Fales, Alice M. Batchelder, Ralph J. Little, Dick K. Little.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The School Board has endeavored to run the schools at such places and times as should "give all the scholars of the town nearly equal advantages as may be practicable," in accordance with the new law. We have given about all the scholars of the town an opportunity to attend three terms of school, except on Ore hill and Swain hill, but they have been given more than double the amount of schooling received last year. Last year Ore hill, Swain hill, the Summit, No. 10 and No. 3, containing 79 scholars according to the school report, over half of those in town, had one term only. (There was one exception, No. 3 had about $31. of back money which taken together with the unusual amount of lumber taxed there, gave them more than the single term of ordinary years.)

In our judgment medium sized schools not less than ten weeks in length are of the most profit under the conditions which obtain here.

We made a contract with the Benton School Board, on the same basis as they made with the Haverhill Board, to receive their scholars, stated to be somewhere from 7 to 10 in number, at $4. each for the school year. There proved to be 17 in all.

With the consent of the Selectmen the blackboards were repaired and a Webster's unabridged dictionary supplied at the Summit. Every school should have one, if not the unabridged, then a smaller one; that is the intention now.

Supplementary readers, Lippincott's, Butler's and the Natural History series have been introduced into all the schools, free of expense, and have added greatly to the interest, while the last named series particularly, are very instructive.

The first thing is to secure the best teachers possible, and next for the parents to have their children attend school regularly. You have paid your money, have your children reap the full benefit of it when possible, for the loss to them is irretrievable. We wish that parents could fully realize this. The habit alone, viewing the matter in a business light, of steady application is of untold value to the pupil when the health will permit. In some schools the absences have been unavoidable by reason of sickness. Many teachers complain, and with reason, that they cannot make their classes show the progress and thoroughness on review that they could otherwise.

There is one point about the new school law that corrects what was before an injustice. If it happened that A. B. C. and D. owning a large amount of property lived within one particular district (usually by the village) though perhaps having no scholars to send, their school taxes usually went to that district, whereas now it goes for the benefit of all the scholars of the town in giving them equal chances.

In closing the chairman of your Board desires to say that he lacks the leisure time which is demanded to do justice to the work of superintending the schools.
